Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

Mr. Stawick,

In response to your request for comments related to the proposed margin regulation of the US Retail Forex Market, I would like to cast a vote of 'no'. We are all adults who are investing and are well aware of the potential losses involved in choosing a margin above 10:1. There is no need for regulatory bodies to tell us what is good for us. I would strongly urge you to reconsider the above mentioned proposal.

Very Respectfully,

Mario Pizzamiglio
US Retail Forex Trader
