Dear Mr. Stawick:

Just eliminate oil speculation completely. Start drilling right here in the United States in the untapped oil fields in the northern states. It's time look the tree huggers in the face and tell them enough is enough. We have the technology to drill for oil and still preserve the wildlife habitat. Help make this country strong again by eliminating our dependency on foreign products, starting with OIL production right here. This will do more to control sky rocketing oil and gas prices more than speculating on what the Middle East will do. WE can control our prices right here in The U.S. by doing this. As a bonus, this would create much needed jobs here in America for AMERICANS, not illegal aliens.

Sincerely,

Fordney Remer
