

From: RS <whoisthere48@gmail.com>
Sent: Wednesday, January 20, 2010 9:57 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: DO NOT alter the Regulation of Retail Forex markets.....

---

Dear Mr. Stawick,

I am a retail Forex trader and a retail Futures trader. I am fully capable of determining my level of risk I wish to take when trading the Forex and Futures markets.

If the government begins to meddle with changing the Regulation of Retail Forex markets to "protect the Retail Forex trader" what will be next? The government deciding how much stock we should buy for our 401k - and which ones - and at what price? Or would you determine if the dividends are high enough to protect us if we buy stocks? Do you see where this will lead.

Anyone who earns or obtains money should be able to invest it how they see fit - not how the government determines it should be invested.

Our country operates best when capitalism and the "law of supply and demand" are allowed to work freely.

Don't muck it up - any more than it already is, please.

Richard Sinor
Fort Collins, CO
970-219-5190

*****