

From: Tom Thompson <tkgthompson@gmail.com>
Sent: Wednesday, January 20, 2010 10:18 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: 'Regulation of Retail Forex'

With regard to the proposed regulation contained in RIN 3038-AC61 stating, "leverage in retail forex customer accounts would be subject to a 10-to-1 limitation," I would like to emphatically state this is an unacceptable and unfair regulation against the retail trader. This clause MUST be removed from this regulation to maintain the freedom and rights of each and every individual who chooses to trade the Forex market. Allowing this clause to become a law would be a terrible injustice that only benefits large corporations and strikes another blow to private individuals with small accounts.

Respectfully,
Thomas K. Thompson
Individual Retail Forex Trader