Subject: Proposed changes in Forex trading by the CFTC

---

Greetings from Georgia,

I would hope the proposed change in Forex trading, particularly concerning reducing the leverage in retail Forex trading to a 10:1 level, if it becomes as apparently proposed, would ruin -- I repeat, ruin -- retail Forex trading in America. This may have been an idea by a well-intentioned individual, but it is not only ill-advised, it would be most disastrous for my business and for most other U.S. Forex traders. Please let this bad idea vanish from your proposals!

Respectfully,

Burgess David Grubbs
