

From: Dan Morganti <dan_morganti@hotmail.com>
Sent: Wednesday, January 20, 2010 10:57 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex - leverage limitations

Dear Sir or Madame,

Regarding proposal RIN 3038-AC61; I'm a retail forex trader who takes full advantage of the 100:1 leverage offered by my broker. I'm fully aware of the risks involved but with proper money management and a very discerning method of choosing trades I've never had a margin call. Forex trading is an integral part of my investment strategy and reducing the leverage I can use would greatly hinder my progress in building my retirement nest egg. So please count me as one who is very much opposed to any reduction in the leverage offered by retail forex brokers.

Thank you for your attention.

Dan Morganti
dan_morganti@hotmail.com
310.251.3588

Hotmail: Trusted email with powerful SPAM protection. Sign up now.