Dear Mr. David Stawick,

I stand behind the belief that each trader should be given the freedom and right to choose the amount of leverage that is appropriate for his/her individual desired risk, and that this basic principle of 'choice' is in jeopardy by the proposed CFTC regulations which would limit leverage to 10:1. Anyone engaging in this level of trading ought to have undergone at least basic training processes. Each one is then responsible for his own choices. Encouraging adequate training and personal responsibility while leaving the leverage level as it is... This is the direction I would like to see.

Regards

Paul LaRochelle
