Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

Dear Mr David Stawick:

I learned about this RIN 3038-AC61 proposal and I believe that as a trader, I have the right to choose if I want to keep the existing leverages that already exist in the forex market. To have 10 to 1 leverage will turn a lot of traders away from forex. Is this the goal that the CFTC is striving for?

Please leave the existing leverage alone and keep traders happy, as they are the force that keeps things moving.

Sincerely,

Winston Sam
