Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

Good day,

Identification number RIN 3038-AC61

I believe that you should be given the freedom and right to choose the amount of leverage that is appropriate for your individual desired risk. Everybody has his/her own budget set out and has a plan to trade a certain amount of funds. I believe that those with less funds should not be discriminated against, by not letting them try to achieve a better living through FX trading. This is one way someone can try to better his/her life and situation without taking loans etc which would set him/her back further.

So please leave the leverage as it is at the moment, that is what we want.

Thank you for your time.

Regards
