

From: Yossi Friedman <jtwinguy@gmail.com>
Sent: Thursday, January 21, 2010 1:24 AM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex - an educated essay.

Dear secretary,

As someone in your position surely knows, jobs are rare especially well paying ones.

Currently there are tens of thousands that do not have capital resources that rely on retail forex trading with leverage as their only means of income and family support.

Regulating leverage down would turn my income from EX. $2000 to $200. please do not do this!

Please also calculate into your considerations the tremendous loss to the us government, calculate the loss of gains tax that would be decreasing!

RIN 3038-AC61

Our fate is in your hands, please choose not to regulate leverage.

An extremely concerned forex trader.