

From: Rand Porter <realestaterand@hotmail.com>
Sent: Thursday, January 21, 2010 9:53 AM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: 'Regulation of Retail Forex'

To Wh om,

I adamantly oppose the proposal to mandate the leverage of forex accounts to be slashed to 10:1. The ability to choose leverage should more than suffice and "protect" any competent trader. Making this mandatory is just another nail in america's financial coffin. This is obviously being done with ulterior motives and will not be "helping" any retail trader's, instead it will force them to do business elsewhere, or in many cases not at ALL. The systematic destruction of the retail trading markets by "over-regulation", For our own good -is ludicris and obvious. Capitalism truly is dead in America.

RIN 3038-AC61

Respectfully,

Rand Porter

Hotmail: Trusted email with Microsoft's powerful SPAM protection. Sign up now.