Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

RIN 3038-AC61

Hello, My name is Greg and I trade retail forex, and have been doing so for the last 5 years. The recent changes made by the CFTC to change the maximum leverage to 1:100 was a bit of a set back as I was trading with a 1:200 leverage amount. Since the change, I have still done reasonable well. I do think that there are traders out there that use too much leverage, but that is:

1. Their choice because of experience, and they maximize profits
