

From: Jo Tortello <mailcopas@yahoo.com>
Sent: Saturday, May 8, 2010 1:37 PM
To: Metals Hearing <metalshearing@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Proposed Federal Speculative Position

5/8/10 Mr. David Stawick, Sec'y CFTC

According to the CFTC's own data, there is concentration and manipulation (of prices) going on in the silver market. It has been determined that the criminal culprit is J P Morgan Chase Bank. You have been investigating this for almost 2 years. What the hell is going on? How long does it take to investigate the data that YOU produced? On March 25th of this year, you held a hearing on this matter and of yet, no word on your conclusions. Will it take you another 2 years to analyze the hearing results? Interestingly, the criminals did not show up at the hearing. Why didn't you subpoena them? I know why they didn't show up.....the same reason Netenyahu didn't show up at the recent Nuclear Test Ban conference in DC. My conclusion is that either you are stalling to let your banker controllers clear up their criminal actions quietly (get out from under their short contracts) or you never intended to do anything in the first place and were just being patronizing to make it look like you are doing you job. I tend to believe the latter. It is no secret that Gary Gensler is a Wall Street insider ala Rubin, Paulson, Voelker, Summers and Gaithner. You moles are in those positions for a reason and it sure as hell isn't to protect the interests of the public. Recall, Obama's mother, while employed at the Ford Fndtn. in Indonesia, had as her boss Peter Gaithner, father of unprosecuted tax evader Tim Gaithner. No gentlemen, it's not hard to connect the trail of criminality. I would suggest you read USC 18: 115 (2381,2382). Goodday.