Subject: position limits in silver

Thanks so much to let us voice our opinion on position limits for precious metals. It seems that a limit of 1200 to 1500 contracts would be a good figure to be fair to all on COMEX silver .Please stop the outrageous levels that have been allowed for several years now. Mainly on the short side of the market. I fully believe since you all have taken serious attention of this matter you will do the right thing. We get enough hot air from our president with nothing getting done for the better only the worse. I truly believe once initiated you will do what is best for all involved and not for a select few. Thank you
