

From: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Sent: Thursday, April 15, 2010 8:55 AM
To: Metals Hearing <metalshearing@CFTC.gov>
Subject: FW: Public Comment Form

---

-----Original Message-----

From: allens10@sbcglobal.net [mailto:allens10@sbcglobal.net]
Sent: Wednesday, April 14, 2010 8:11 PM
To: secretary
Subject: Public Comment Form

Below is the result of your feedback form. It was submitted by (allens10@sbcglobal.net) on Wednesday, April 14, 2010 at 20:10:36

-----

commenter_subject: March 25, 2010, CFTC Hearing

commenter_frdate: Not known

commenter_frpage: Not known

commenter_comments: Dear Sir:

In the April 7, 2010, issue of "Liberty's Outlook" a newsletter put out by the "Liberty Coin Service", it was reported that evidence had been given during the March 25, 2010, hearing of the CFTC that there were certain irregularities which had occurred at London exchange, and that "Now that this information about silver price manipulation and about the massive shortage of physical gold and silver on the London exchange is part of the official record, I expect a huge fallout." The columnist went on to say that "If you would like to view what happened yourself, please check the CFTC video clips at <http://www.capitolconnection.net/capcon/cftc/032510/CFTCwebcast.htm> ." But when I went to this web address, I found only written information, and, moreover, the reference librarian at my local library confirmed this and said that it was surprising to him as this, in his experience, usually does not happen! What is the explanation of this? Are you people engaged in some sort of a coverup?

Sincerely,
Dr. Dennis P. Allen, Jr.

commenter_name: Dr. Dennis P. Allen, Jr.

commenter_firm: Retired Mathematician

commenter_withhold_address_on: ON commenter_address1: 17046 Lloyds Bayou Dr.

commenter_address2: Apt. 322

commenter_city: Spring Lake

commenter_state: Michigan

commenter_zip: 49456

commenter_fax: none

commenter_phone: 616 842 6884

---