Please stop the manipulation of the gold and silver market by big banks (JPM). This is going to end very badly, a hundred to one leverage never ever works, it is just a matter of time before this house of cards comes down. Do you want to be the one that tells the American people that the CFTC let the big banks manipulate the price of gold and silver? This manipulation is going to cause the whole market to blow-up. You can smell the blood in the water, it is just a matter of time before we have another crisis but instead of the FED it will be the CFTC that all the politicians blame. There is going to be a short squeeze on silver and it won't be pretty and who do you think the fall guy is going to be?

Thank You,
