Subject: Position Limits

Position Limits,

It is long overdue that the Wall St. crooks are brought to heel for their dishonest and blatant manipulation of the precious metals markets. As a small investor, I attempted to trade these markets without the knowledge that this manipulation was being practiced. I lost considerable money before I learned. Many years ago the Hunt brothers attempted to corner the silver market and we saw what happened. These few banks may someday suffer equally, except that when they fail we taxpayers will be expected to bail them out. I ask that your agency impose fairness in these markets.

Sincerely,

Robert LeChevalier
