To Whom it may concern.

I read a report where you want to change the leverage from a 100:1 to 10:1. Therefore changing the playing field between the rich and not so rich. I am not for the changes that are being proposed. I think you realize that the forex market has grown by a factor of 300% in the last five years and still is growing, I don't understand why you have change, when the American Constitution, which stated the pursuit of honorable business practice, equality for all.

Sincerely,

Sam Koble
