I have absolutely no faith in the CFTC (you people) to reverse the current silver price manipulation scheme being played out by JP Morgan (with your assistance). The meeting last week was obviously a farse meant to deceive the desperate people who still believe there is hope in this country for justice. You folks pretending not to know what is going on with JPM and silver is just another example of why Americans are so fed up with their government and the people who work for it.

Stick this CFTC commission meeting in there with your 1 1/2 yyyyyyyyyear llllllllllllllllong "investigation" of manipulations in the silver market. Uh huh.....

This country is toast.....
