Subject: Position Limits and Comex shorting of Silver

Secretary of the Commission,

I appreciate the public forum on precious metals that transpired on March 24th. I read about the many interesting questions raised and answered. While I'm happy the ball might get rolling on addressing position limits and issue of large shortings of silver, as a PM investor, I cannot purchase any more paper silver. I must take delivery and hold physical silver which is a sad state of affairs. I'm anticipating the day when comex is safe and sound with the current shorts covered. Thanks
