

From: rclites@juno.com
Sent: Thursday, March 25, 2010 3:42 PM
To: Metals Hearing <metalshearing@CFTC.gov>
Subject:

There are those who suggest that people should ask you to intervene in the metals markets.

Wrong. Wrong. Wrong. This retired economist says that the best way to deal with the problems is to let the free market reign.

No regulations or controls - ever.

People must learn to be responsible for themselves.

Roger Clites