

From: Jackie Goodyear <goodyearblimp@yahoo.com>
Sent: Thursday, March 25, 2010 4:10 AM
To: Metals Hearing <metalshearing@CFTC.gov>
Subject: metal position limits

---

The old saying the man with all the gold is king. Wrong here, there is even one better than this. The one who controls the price controls all the gold also. Even without owning gold single dime investing in it. Also you can't control the world and all of its governments if the gold and silver are allowed to rise and fall as they should in a capital system. And also they say your dollars not backed by gold. There's wrong here you can actually take your dollar in and cash it in for gold and silver. so it is backed by pms. But when nobody wants to sell their gold for cheap dollars the game's over.