Subject: proposed margin changes

CFTC

The proposed margin rule does not favor the American citizen. We could not trade currency with the rest of the world until 1999 because of rules like the one you are proposing. If the privilege to trade under current margin rules does not change for the rest of the world traders will have to answer for that. Citizens are fed up with the kind of legislation that is not in our citizens or this country's best interest.

Patriotically yours
