commenter_subject: Change to Forex Leverage 10:1

commenter_comments: I am a small trader of currencies. This regulation would cut the supplemental income I make from this market. It provides no value and would hurt the brokerages in the US. If this is passed I will take my business overseas to continue trading under reasonable conditions.

You are not protecting us with this change.

- The change will reduct income to small traders like me
- The change will force me to work with less regulated foreign institutions.

For once try doing something that benefits the little guy.
