RE: Process for Review of Swaps for Mandatory Clearing (RIN 3038-AD00)

Dear Mr. Stawick:

Americans for Financial Reform is an unprecedented coalition of over 250 national, state and local groups who have come together to reform the financial industry. Members of our coalition include consumer, civil rights, investor, retiree, community, labor, religious and business groups as well as Nobel Prize-winning economists.

We appreciate the opportunity to comment on the process for review of swaps for mandatory clearing. Moving derivatives trading out of the shadows and into the light of open clearing and exchange trading is vital to building a more secure financial system, and a fundamental element of the reforms required by the Dodd Frank legislation. For this reason, the process by which swaps are reviewed for mandatory clearing is likewise of the utmost importance, and should be carried out with the maximum detail and transparency.

It is particularly important that DCO's be required to present sufficient and specific information in every case where they are submitting swaps to the commission for review and when they are requesting a determination for eligibility to clear swaps. Submissions should also be published so as to facilitate public review and comment, including both on the CFTC website and in the Federal Register. The Commission's ongoing responsibility to review swaps that have not been accepted for clearing to determine whether they should be required to be cleared is also of fundamental importance, as is making public the results of such investigations, and taking action to make sure that the basic requirement that swaps that can be cleared will be cleared is not undermined.

Thank you again for the opportunity to express our views on this question. For more information please contact Heather Slavkin at 202-637-5318.

Sincerely,

Americans for Financial Reform
