Subject: Didi you finish with oil and gas leverage first?

to whom it concern:

Oil and natural gas futures wich its leveraged speculation affects the economy negatively, and affects every one in population affordability to basic life necissities like energy and heat, are a million times more deserving of limiting margin requirements than currencies.
Forex traders will simply move their accounts and liquididty to anywhere else in the world without achieving any benefit to any one in the economy or the industry.
please set your priorities straight.
