Subject: Leverage regulations

Hello My name is Mike M, as a retail Forex trader. I'm hoping to reach you on the subject of the new proposed leverage regulations. I would like if the leverage would remain at 100-1 ratio, it would allow for a modest sized accounts to continue operate. It give the average individual another avenue to invest in, without such large capital account requirements. It would be another freedom and choice taken away from the investor, that could be made at their own discretion .

Thank you for you time

Mike M
