

From: Maycko José Soares da Silva
Sent: Thursday, January 21, 2010 8:13 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

---

We don't agree with policies that might clearly disadvantage firms in the United States which in turn disadvantage to me, the client of companies who generate jobs and put into motion the economy.

I think that thousands of customers will leave the commerce forex, therefore this process is one retrocession.

If the concern is the broker no "crack", this is not necessary! Therefore serious brokers have a limit that they call " margin call " e even though the limit of not being able to make commerce when the account reaches in zero dollars.

I come on behalf of my individual opinion and certainly of thousand of traders spread for the entire world.
Thank you!
God Bless U.S.A / BRAZIL.

---

Animações GRATUITAS para seu e-mail – do IncrediMail!

Clique aqui!