Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

RIN 3038-AC61

Please do not change the current margin requirements of Retail Forex as announced on January 13, 2010, from the current 100:1 to 10:1. Doing this would practically squeeze out much of the individual currency trading public from being able to trade in this market and would only allow those with huge sums of capital to be able to trade in this market.

I look forward to seeing more information on this and truly hope that this new proposal is NOT implemented.

Sincerely,
John Starbuck
