

RECEIVED
CFTC

COMMENT

2011 MAR 2

THE PLASTIC SPOON REVOLUTION

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARIAT

EXECUTIVE HEADQUARTERS
25 GAUMOND ROAD

NORTH GROSVENORDALE, CONNECTICUT 06255

Dear Commissioners,

I represent the members of the Plastic Spoon Revolution (PSR), an organization fighting the high cost of living and corporate greed. We are sick of the high cost of gasoline and home heating oil. We are also sick of how the greed machine of Big Oil and Wall Street are continually able to pick the pockets of the American people, most of them struggling to make ends meet in today's economy. Rex Tillerson (CEO, Exxon/Mobil) had the gall to say (speaking from all places - Wall Street) that he feels that the current prices of gasoline and home heating oil are not yet hurting the American economy. He said that when gas reaches $4.00 per gallon it creates "some real challenges for average American families and their budgets." What this greedy pig fails to mention is that the last time gas topped 4 bucks per gallon - Exxon/Mobil posted record profit. Lloyd Blankfein (CEO, Goldman Sachs) is an even bigger piece of shit. Where else than at Goldman Sachs, can the CEO see his company get sued for close to 800 million dollars and still get a big pay raise and bonus? This is why the PSR is asking that you immediately put the squash on, and stop speculation in the commodities market and enforce the full extent of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act. Even with this regulation, I'm sure that both Mr. Tillerson and Blankfein will continue to live better than the "average American families" will.

Sincerely,

Ed DeLuca, President, the Plastic Spoon Revolution
Website: theplasticspoonrevolution.com

cc: Rex Tillerson, Lloyd Blankfein, and John Watson