

From: Tony Hamblin <tman1964@earthlink.net>
Sent: Sunday, January 17, 2010 8:07 AM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

---

CFTC,

I'm writing this in response to the news that I just received that further government regulation will be imposed on my retail forex trading account. You people will not stop until the free market is crippled or destroyed forever will you? Please give me a reason you need to regulate every small forex trader out of business. Increasing the margin requirements in such a manner will force every small and perhaps large traders into the hands of foreign brokers.

I completely oppose this needless regulation and I'm prepared and I'm advising my friends to move their accounts to foreign brokers without such ridiculous regulations. The day this regulation goes into effect is the day I move my accounts to brokers outside this country who don't see the need to regulate the market into oblivion.

Regards,
Robert A. Hamblin