

From: adnyk@aol.com
Sent: Friday, January 22, 2010 12:13 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: IT WONT DO ANY GOOD

Dear secretary,

your propose plan to put firther limitations on retail forex trading will not do anyone any good. To be honest there is no legal sense neither is any economic justification to what you intended to do. I personally beleive that your intention is to make the rich richer and the poor poorer, or simply to keep profitable opportunity only to the fat cat who are your finacial sponsor.

Since the economic downturn many of us have resorted to retail forex trading just to make ends meet. The jobs are not readily available and now the only means of livelihood to thousands is now going to dissappear through irresponsible legislation. No serious government will do that, no wise government will do that, and no resposable government will do. So why should you do it. Pls think twice
Thanks