To whom this may concern,

In response to the proposed limitation on the leverage of retail currency trading accounts I am sending this note. We as Americans are losing our rights on a daily basis. As a currency trader it is my right to choose my risk on any and all trades I place. This limitation would affect my ability to earn profits substantially. My husband and I have lost out jobs and are being taxed heavily. Now, you try to take away my ability to financially survive??!!
