Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

---

Hello,

I was reading some article and came upon one of them which stated that CFTC is considering to add more regulation of Retail Forex market by changing the maximum from 100:1 to 10:1. For a retail trader like me who gets some extra money while trading forex, this is going to deal a severe blow to my trading account.

In the recent past the regulation had made the leverage from 200:1 to 100:1 and it affected my ability to trade. Now with this change it will seriously impact me. I urge you to please re-consider this decision.

Thanking you
