

From: Scott Watson <sm45acp2@yahoo.com>
Sent: Friday, January 22, 2010 5:27 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: regulation of retail forex

dear sir

i have been trading the retail forex market for about 2 yrs i have good days and i have not so good days but the good ones pay for the bad. i am a very small investor who only trades to supplement my income if you change the margin requirements to 10-1 margin you will be taking away some of my income, the account balance required ould be out of my reach. I was wiped out in 2000 from listening to a Morgan Stanley broker who only cared about herself and wouldnt answer or return calls while the market dropped 750 points a day so i do my own investing now and you are about to take that away, please reconsider thank you scott watson