Subject: Leverage in Forex Trading

To whom it may concern,

The fact that several foreign exchange brokers offer high leverage is exactly what make the market a great opportunity. Please do not allow the poor trading techniques of inexperienced traders stop these companies from offering the trading environment that makes it possible to be successful as a forex trader. If you do you will only cause thousands of traders to move their accounts to other brokers abroad and take away more business from a hurting economy that needs all the help it can get.
