Subject: 'Regulation of Retail Forex'

RIN 3038-AC61

Hello,

I m just an average trader who has a mini forex account and it helps me to pay the bills.

The last year I have made about $13000 by using my strategy and I have been very conservative with the stop losses. If the new regulation will be made I wont be able to use the amount of money needed to be as profitable. Please review it again. Otherwise people like me will be forced to open the accounts with the foreign forex providers which at the end will cut more jobs for US economy.

Thank you
