I am against this new proposal of reducing the leverage. And this change will just kick me out of market. I would quit trading if this change comes into effect.

Every trader understands their as I do, and trader should have choice to choose leverage and consequently risk levels.

I am sure this change will make most of the retail traders quit Trading. Though I don't know the effect of retail traders quitting.

I do spot Forex trading and Forex.com is my broker. I will be Glad if my opinion counts.

Thank
