To whom it may concern:

Please DO NOT adopt the proposed 10:1 leverage rule. I am new to Forex trading. I lost my job unfairly last year.

My former employer laid off the employees that had been there the longest, including a lady that worked there for 64 years.

They kept the new employees. There are no jobs out there. This Forex trading is the only way that I now have to make money. Please don't change the rules. This is my only means of survival now. Thank you.
