Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

---

Before changing the regulations on retail forex anymore please consider the following. I have been trading forex for about 2 years and absolutely love the industry. I had all my accounts in the US before the hedging a leverage change happened. I had to move all my accounts to other countries in order to trade. We use forex as an extra stream of income and to build a retirement. Please dont make it impossible to trade forex as an average income citizen. Investors and traders should have the right to trade forex.

Thank you,
