From: michael meo <michael_meo@msn.com>

Sent: Friday, January 22, 2010 9:24 PM To: secretary <secretary @CFTC.gov>

Subject: What????

Forget about the cordial greetings!

I am totally disgusted with what you are trying to do to the retail traders, that are taking the responsibility of supplementing their incomes, or generating their primary incomes from trading!

We are being proactive in providing for ourselves and our families. We are utilizing our own capital, as entrepreneurs to fight this "Depression", that has been forced upon us by governmental malfeasance, in not regulating Wall St. and it's Hodge-Podge of financial instruments that were later sold worldwide. What an embarrassment!!!

If I want 100:1 leverage, I should be able to access it. I am not involving anyone but myself!!! You guys are out of your freaking minds!!!!

Oh by the way-what are you doing about the ridiculous "Short" positions by JP Morgan in the Gold & Silver markets. Yes, I am an informed retail trader/investor and by nature, extremely competitive.

You guys are barking up the wrong tree!!! Clean-up the manipulated short positions by JP & company first, stop embarrassing yourselves.

What a bunch of MUPPETTS!!!!!

Do the right thing Guys and Gals!! This is not it!!!