

From: Ron C <rgrron38@yahoo.com>
Sent: Friday, January 22, 2010 9:57 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Please don't change leverage in Forex

Dear Sir, Ma'm:

My name is Ronald Casillas, a citizen of the US and resident of California. I have been a retail forex trader for 6 years now and enjoy it immensely. It has provided my family and I supplemental income. I have been notified that there is a proposed change in leveraging our trades, from 100:1 to 10:1. This would substantially change the amount of money I would need to make a profitable gain and it's already tough to make consistent trades, we don't need another obstacle to lower our potential gains. Please consider my letter along with the wave of my fellow traders. Thank you.

Ronald Casillas
Moreno Valley, CA