

From: Muhammad Ali <rmak@live.com>
Sent: Saturday, January 23, 2010 5:16 AM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

ID # RIN 3038-AC61

Gentlemen,

The implementation of the leverage rule for all the forex brokers in the USA is pretty much discouraging especially for ordinary, low income investors and young people who are learning and experimenting with the forex business. By applying this rule we will no longer enjoy the same standard as the five figures investors would. Small amount for higher profits but also open for higher risks and losses, it is a fair game, so what is wrong with that?

Freedom of leverage is the opportunity for the traders like us to have a chance to make our dreams come true. If that chance is taken away, then to my knowledge its something like the poorer the poorest and richer the richest.

IBFX Trader

Muhammad Ali

Windows Live: Keep your friends up to date with what you do online.