RIN 3038-AC61

I am a retail FX Trader and I am strongly opposed to your new leverage proposal of 10:1 by CFTC. I believe the choice should be left to the Traders as to what leverage is appropriate for them. It would be a great idea to have the brokers disclose the leverage options and risk involved. I would hate to see for most of the FX Retail Traders to move their investments out of this country, simply because as a mature individual they weren't given a choice or option.

Please reconsider this proposal.

Sincerely
Amir Doulatshahi
