Dear Sirs

I gather from my foex dealer that you wish to reduce the leverage for forex trading from 1% to 10%. I am obviously concerned about this a I use the 1% margin for most of my trading and it is for this reason that I opened my account with interbankfx in the United States. If this margin is increased to 10 % then I may have to move my account to other country. I hope this does not happen and look to many future years of trading forex with my present Broker hank You.
