

From: Eddie <eddie1969@mindspring.com>
Sent: Saturday, January 23, 2010 10:37 AM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

RIN 3038-AC61

To whom this may concern,

You must not reduce the leverage that we spot forex brokers use to trade. The margin requirements upon doing so would make it all but impossible for most people to trade in the USA. Please do not do this. People should have to right to choose what they want to risk. This will just make it harder for anyone to even make that choice. People will be forced to put more money up to risk which is even more dangerous. At least with higher leverage we don't have to start out with so much and can still make reasonably good profits.
SO PLEASE DO NOT PASS THIS REGULATION.

Thank you,
Eddie Dixon