Subject: For Free Enterprise sake

To whom it may concern,

Please do not change to maximum leverage and margin requirements to the USD/JPY forex trading pair. This will only restrict small investors from entering the market and give control to the large investors, namely the banks, to affect the ways the market is traded. It will also reduce the amount of investing and limit free enterprise. My dream is the American Dream, not just for my family and I, but for all people. Don't limit our opportunities. Don't increase the gap between the rich and the poor by stopping opportunities to profit.
