Subject: Regulation For Retail Forex

Hi, It has come to our attention that the governing body of the Forex industry in America is proposing to make some drastic changes to the Forex industry by using a 10 :1 ratio in any Forex investment.

Categorically speaking, this ruling will move tremendous amounts of monies from America's monetary system and slow down it's recovery to a crawl.

With the implementation of such an outrageous ruling the Forex market place will collapse causing the shifting of Off-shore money investing that will make the depression of Wall Street look like a Picnic.

Take a good look at this proposal again and should this decision remain the one of choice, then kiss the recovery" GOODBYE". "There must be a better way than this."
