To whom this concerns,

This is a simple voice trying to say HELP! The news of hearing that our usa brokers is making heavy considerations of devastating the forex market for retail traders could make a grown man cry! I believe there is a better way to handle traders that seem to ruin it for the greater good. So plz take a look at other options that would keep the American way a live! Remember this is hudge, not just to the retail trader but once again the American way. 100-1 rather then 10-1 keeps a brick at a time alive! for the everyday trader. Plz take this to heart and consider the ramifications to us all.

Thank you much

John Kurtz
