Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

I can not believe what I'm hearing. Correct me if I am wrong, but is AMERICA (LAND OF THE FREE) trying to take AMERICAN's out of the free market? Implementing this 10 to 1 limit on retail traders will do just that! Then what? Europe, China, Japan etc, can dictate the value of our dollar. I don't understand what you hope to achieve by doing this. Is it to create a huge bubble in the equity market, bond market? Or to create another housing bubble? By your regulations you will be responsible for the largest false market ever seen. That's something you can be proud of. The free market always finds the right price. The over regulated market finds disaster. Stop your meddling.

Overly Disgusted,
